Cruise Clubs

Gay cruise club on Beverly Blvd in Los Angeles. This is where men play hard in a raunchy, hyper-masculine environment. Unlike in other cruise clubs you can wear normal clothes here. You can also parade around in fetish gear!

Cruise your way along the suckatorium or situate yourself within it. Try your luck - or someone else's - in the slings, take a dip in the bathtub, get dirty in the watersports room, or get the luck of the dip in the dark room.

You can also head out back for a smoke. There are mazes to explore and a video room. If you're looking for sophistication, this not the place for you. But for some debauchery, you should check it out.

Out-of-towners can gain access for a one-off admission fee of $28.

EAGLE LA

4219 Santa Monica Blvd, Los Angeles, USA

Cruise Clubs

Popular gay leather bar on Santa Monica Blvd, in the heart of the L.A. gay scene. This bar will show you the kinky side of the Eastside.

Here, you can enjoy cheap drinks, porn and leather-clad masculinity practically oozing out of the walls. EAGLE has a large main bar and a smaller, more intimate one. You can head out onto the patio for a smoke - leather fans appreciate a good cigar.

If you like your men thick, leathery and furry, then check this place out. It also provides a welcome respite from many of the affectations you experience in Hollywood: a sleazy and unpretentious bar.

There are various themed events. Leather/fetish gear is particularly encouraged at the weekend.

Dance Clubs

Established in 1989, Micky's is an L.A. gay institution and regarded as one of the most popular gay venues in West Hollywood.

The two-storey bar & nightclub has a relatively small dance floor that always gets packed on weekends - definitely a place with some action and hot guys.

Micky's hosts regular parties with top DJ's, go-go dancers and drag shows by many of America's fiercest queens; including Showgirls on Monday. Regular drink specials are on offer.

Dance Clubs

Downtown's LA's largest gay bar, Precinct has quickly made a name for itself since opening in mid-2015.

From drag shows by the Boulet Brothers to events by perennial partier Mario Diaz, they've attracted many of LA's contemporary nightlife legends. If downtown LA is the new West Hollywood, this is their Abbey.

Just a few blocks from the Ace Hotel, the self-dubbed "rock and roll gay bar" is a space for leather, lipstick, and bears.

The expansive 8500 ft² 2nd floor includes a bar, dance floor, stage and a wrap-around terrace with commanding views over the exposed brick decor. A perfect spot for a Sunday beer.

Dance Clubs

The LASH is a concept club, bar, performance and social space located in the historic core of downtown Los Angeles and Hollywood. This nights-only downtown watering hole lures the hip and the hipper with a lean, carefully curated wine and beer list, plus plenty of exotic cocktails.

The lofty, industrial space spans multiple rooms, outfitted with edgy accessories like subway tiles, broken mirrors, concrete and marble. The place feels a little more like a party at an exclusive, tucked-away Berlin club than it does a night out at your standard LA dance spot.

The DJ is known to spin the perfect combination of beat-heavy dance hits and tracks you can sing along to, and the dim spot provides a notoriously ideal (and sweaty) stage for dance floor make-outs.

Bars

Hi Tops is a gay sports bar in WeHo. It originally opened in San Francisco. Gay sports bars are popular in America - they may catch on in Europe one day.

The owner described Hi Tops as so: "It's a gay bar where you can bring your parents. It's friendly and welcoming, not intimidating and cliquey."

Bar

GYM Sportsbar

8737 Santa Monica Blvd, Los Angeles, USA

Bars

A West Hollywood gay sports bar showing all the major games. You can watch baseball games and check out some excellent eye candy.

It's a laidback bar - masc for masc, you could say. This is a real sports bar, so do spare a thought for the odd straight guy who might be taking a while to figure out what's going on. You can head to the cellar bar as the night progresses and get a little more sweaty, if the mood takes you.

Bars

No-attitude bar in North Hollywood and a casual hangout that serves food and hosts live events. Enjoy cheap beer and the dark leathery interior while partaking in one of the regular karaoke or movie nights.

The large patio houses a GEARWORXX custom leather and gift shop on the weekends. The Bullet is a stomping ground for several gay subcultures, but it's popular among the leather fetish community.

Features:BarMusic

Roosterfish

1302 Abbot Kinney Blvd, Los Angeles, USA

Bars

A long-standing kitschy gay bar in Venice. This delightful dive bar has served the area for over 40 years with drinks, pool tables, jukebox tunes and local artwork.

A rustic wood and brick décor punctuated by beer signs, cowboy paintings, and rotating exhibits of homoerotic art creates an atmosphere that's welcoming and sexy.

A perfect match for the outgoing patrons who stop in day and night to hang out at the bar or play darts and video games in the back. It has a famous old-school men's bathroom ceiling with some none-too-subtle adult images.

Roosterfish lives up to its inclusive slogan: "We're a neighbourhood gay bar, but Los Angeles is a very big neighbourhood."

Features: Bar Dancing Live shows Music

Birdcage Venice Beach

2640 Main Street Santa Monica, Los Angeles, USA

Bars

Established in 2016, The Birdcage Venice Beach is one of the most popular new gay bars in Santa Monica, LA. The decor is chic, as are the clientele. There's a fab selection of cocktails too.

If you want to see and be seen on the gay scene in LA, this is a great spot to be in. Expect lots of house music. If you'd like a bit of peace and quiet you can chill on the patio. The drinks aren't cheap but they sure taste good. Try La Rosa Blanca, if you're a cocktail fan. You won't be disappointed.
